An experienced member of the firm's Estate Planning & Administration Group, Jeanine helps clients assess their estate planning goals to create their specialized estate plan. She specializes in drafting wills, powers of attorney, healthcare directives and other related documents, including those pertaining to charitable and tax planning.

In addition to general estate planning needs, she guides clients through the specifics of probate and non-probate matters, as well as planning for minimal tax ramifications.

While focusing primarily on estate planning and administration, Jeanine is also experienced in matters of family, real estate and school law.
